

K-MAX

Potassium supplement for racing greyhounds

What's In It?

KMAX supplies a palatable source of potassium, magnesium, zinc and Vitamin E.

What Does It Do?

Potassium is vital for muscle contraction, nerve function and relaxation of the heart muscle in dogs, as well as in normal digestion and utilisation of nutrients in the diet. Magnesium is critical to normal nerve function. Both magnesium and zinc are essential in the development of healthy strong bones and Vitamin E has potent antioxidant effects in performance dogs. Greyhounds cannot conserve potassium as efficiently as other body salts. Panting, barking, hard exercise and muscular effort all rapidly deplete potassium reserves, particularly in nervous dogs. Low blood potassium can lead to dehydration and poor performance. KMAX supplements the essential nutrients with potassium to combat dietary deficiencies.

How Do I Use It?

Mix 5mL Ranvet KMAX twice daily into morning and evening feed, or over tongue. Shake well before use.

How Is It Packed?
